Pre-Marital Counseling Fees

Pre-Marital Counseling is also available for an additional fee. Laura received her training at Lexington Theological Seminary (Lexington, KY) while earning her Master of Divinity. She is a licensed facilitator in the Prepare-Enrich program for dating, engaged, and married couples (www.prepare-enrich.com), and also performs regular counseling in her current pastoral setting.

Pre-Marital Counseling Includes:

- The Prepare-Enrich Assessment & Program in addition to some of my own supplemental resources to discuss communication styles, extended family matters, conflict, and relationship strengths and areas of growth.
- Other topics of interest to the couple are also provided as needed. This may include, but is not limited to: couples that include children or step children, inter-religious marriages or other unique family situations. Pre-marital counseling may be done through the lens of secular or religious considerations, or a mixture – it will be considered unique to each couple.

6 sessions of pre-marital counseling are an additional $150 paid to Laura Phillips (plus the $35 assessment fee paid directly to Prepare-Enrich).

I take seriously the investment you are making into your relationship and your marriage, not only your wedding day. I look forward to being of service to you in any way possible!
